Genevieve Hendricks

And now comes a beautiful co-ed rolling a score of 226 in bowling. She is Miss Genevieve Hendricks, a junior of the University of Wisconsin, Madison.

This score is one of the highest ever rolled by a woman in the United States and is the record-breaker in the Inter-sorority Bowling League of the University.

Miss Hendricks is a member of the Pi Beta Phi Sorority.

JUST HUMAN

Mike Gibbons is a husky who makes a living by the expert use of his fists.

Some folks would turn up their noses at him because he is a "prizefighter."

For instance, we overheard a fat-tummied old top in a street car the other night, his back almost broken by the weight of his watch fob, passing out a lot of scorching scorn for prizefighters.

We were curious and we looked him up. He was a note-shaver who got rich foreclosing mortgages; he wouldn't rob a blind man before witnesses.

But about Mike.

Game sports on the other side offered Mike a peach of a purse the other day if he'd come to Australia and mix 'em up with some antipodean middleweights.

"Not on your life," was Mike's reply—and he's fond of money, too.

But he ducked because wife and the kids aren't feeling well; they couldn't go along and he wouldn't take chances on leaving them behind.

By which we see, kind friends, that even prizefighters are human.

Wonder if the note-shaver'll see it, too.

UPLIFTING TOPICS

We are spending our time this week feeding the stock and roasting our feet before the fire. Smallpox and Cuban Itch is the main topic of conversation.—Cor. Jackson (Ohio) Sun.

Baking powder biscuits should be baked in a very quick oven, as hot as possible without burning the biscuits. One that will brown a piece of white paper in one minute is none too hot.
